

ZALORA LAUNCHES CLOTHES RECYCLING INITIATIVE IN SINGAPORE

SINGAPORE, 30 AUGUST 2023 - ZALORA, Asia's leading fashion and lifestyle e-commerce destination, and part of Global Fashion Group (GFG) launched its Snap and Drop apparels donation program on its website and mobile app. Collaborating with Life Line Clothing, a local zero waste textile collector, ZALORA aims to give donated apparels a second chance to be loved and worn or upcycled into new items. Collected textiles will be reused and resold if in good-condition or repurposed as raw materials for household items like gloves and tote bags. This program is part of ZALORA's sustainability initiatives on promoting a more circular fashion economy to tackle climate change, and part of a broader movement in GFG's long-term People and Planet Positive strategy.

Through this partnership with Life Line Clothing, donors can drop their pre-loved apparels at 60 textile recycling bins island-wide, including easily accessible heartland and downtown locations:

- Ang Mo Kio
- Bedok
- Bukit Batok
- Buona Vista
- City Hall
- Clementi
- Hougang
- Jurong
- Kranji
- Marina Bay
- Pasir Ris
- Paya Lebar
- Punggol
- Queenstown
- Sengkang
- Somerset
- Tampines
- Tanjong Pagar
- Tiong Bahru
- Yishun

Full map can be found here.

Collected textiles will be diverted from landfills and sent to a Life Line Clothing facility to be sorted, then reused, refurbished, or upcycled. To encourage donations, donors will receive S$10 cashback on their next ZALORA purchase.

To take part in the Snap and Drop Program:

1. Pack any clothes, shoes, bags or other fabric items
2. Snap a picture of their bag of donated items in front of the collection box at one of the drop-off locations
3. Drop their items into the collection box, and do note down the collection box number (SG0XXX) located at the front of the box
4. Fill up a form located on the ZALORA website to obtain cashback

ZALORA has also worked with social media personalities to create demonstrations, so donors are more aware of the steps on participating in the Snap and Drop clothing recycling initiative.

Demonstrations can be found on social media such as Instagram and Facebook, with the hashtag #ZALORASnapAndDrop.

In an effort to make these repurposed items more easily accessible to customers, and to provide a greater range of sustainable and environmentally-friendly pre-loved products, Life Line will offer selected upcycled items which have passed authentication and condition checks for purchase on the ZALORA website and app.

Arvind Devadasan, Head of Sustainability, ZALORA said: “We are excited to collaborate with local partners like Life Line Clothing Singapore to provide more recycling opportunities for our communities. Look out for the Snap and Drop program bins around our neighborhoods, workplaces, and malls. Together, we can do our part to create a greener and more sustainable fashion ecosystem.”

Andrew Jackson, Head of Business Development of Life Line Clothing said: "At Life Line Clothing, as the only Zero Waste, ISO Accredited textiles recycler and recoverer, our core mission has always been to divert textiles from landfill and create positive impact on both people and the planet.

Teaming up with ZALORA for this groundbreaking first-of-its-kind Take-Back Program whilst promoting our Upcycle4Better upcycled fashion goods and accessories on their platform, is a significant stride towards achieving our circularity goals. We're thrilled to pioneer a movement that promotes responsible textiles recovery and upcycling with the leading fashion e-commerce website in South East Asia. We hope that it encourages behavioral change within the communities and how textiles recycling is perceived."

ZALORA's upcycling and cashback programs have currently been rolled out in Singapore and Malaysia, with plans being explored to expand to other markets in the Southeast Asian region alongside local upcycling partners. More information on the program can also be found here.
